THE OLDEST TEACHER.—Olympia, Ky., August 31, 1908.—OWINGVILLE OUTLOOK: Please accept my correction of your statement last week, in speaking of me as a teacher.

I commenced teaching the first Monday in Sept., 1828. I have taught for 80 years, since that time, except a few years. This will make 81 years, if I live to finish this. I have always tried to build up morality in my schools; to get pupils to read their standard in humanities and modern languages, ministers of the Gospel and many other good citizens who have been students of mine in school. I am now teaching my fifth session in the Sour Springs school.

I am having a good attendance, and am informed by the patrons that I am teaching the best school they have had since I taught there last. Now, let me say to all that I never taught politics in my schools. Let us, as Americans, come together and have a Jeffersonian administration, which will bring peace and happiness to this country.

G. W. THOMPSON.

LAST SERMON.—Rev. George D. Prentiss and bride returned Saturday from their wedding trip, and Mr. Prentiss preached his last sermon for this conference at the Mt. Church Sunday morning and night.

Mr. Prentiss is a very earnest and zealous young minister and has labored faithfully to build up the churches here and at Mt. Pleasant. These two churches were his first charge by Conference. All indications point to his sure advancement in the ministry and wherever he may be assigned the ensuing year his many friends and admirers here wish him a happy and successful year and prosperous career.

FOR JAILER.—Wm. W. Nixon, of Preston, announces himself a candidate for Jailer, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Mr. Nixon is a son of ex-Jailer Samuel Nixon and, like his father, is a man who never scratched the Democratic ticket. He is a clever, sociable man, popular with the people, and has a large following of personal friends. He knows how to make friends. He asks that the voters give his candidacy their earnest consideration.

THE ROAD-WORKING.—The candidates were again on hand at the Kendall's Spring road-working Thursday. Two hundred workers, including some boys, and they did about as much road-working as the previous Thursday. There was a bountiful supply of provisions and the crowd had a big time, while doing good work also.

A GOOD ROAD CONVENTION.—Articles have appeared in THE OUTLOOK at different times regarding an enterprise which during the past year has been in active progress, to construct a turnpike into the Forge Farm neighborhood by way of Kendall's Spring, a distance of about four miles. About two and a half miles of this road are complete. The people of the southern end of the line, with the assistance of outside friends, have finished one mile of this road without assistance from the county, there being now only one-half mile just beyond the ford on State creek to make the chain complete. It is generally supposed that the Fiscal Court will convene in few days and adjust this matter, which will make the road complete to the county farm, and will give the people beyond, who through generous past, have been mud and creek bound, a chance to get to town during the winter.

All the people of this section came from the surrounding country with their teams, plows, shovels, etc. The workers were divided into companies and each man's part assigned him, to begin operations.

There was no oratory on this occasion, but a good deal of conversation in driving teams, blasting rock and blowing out tumps.

There was no mud on the road to do the work in his line. There was some as grinding. There was not as much mud as the teams were used to have, and did not need "cussing," no spit or spittle, no mud on the ground, as plenty of lime was supplied every deficiency. As to the soup it was so rich and so good, no mud on the ground would suffice. There were seven large kettles, all in a row, with various kinds of meats, chicken, beef and burgo. Much credit and honor are reflected on Messrs. Smoot, Ryburn, Stephens and a few small boys who made this soup and kept the pot boiling. There were a few politicians of the crowd who did "valet" service and most excellent work; a doctor to repair strained backs and to take care of those who present not to go anything rash or reckless in the way of working or eating; one origist, ready to supply them with healing balm; one grocer who worked, but never quit talking; a County Attorney, who made one of the best hands at the table; an undertaker, who is also a thoroughgoing turnpike man. In fact this was one of the jolliest and best crowds I ever saw. It would be difficult to find a small corner of the earth equal to this one. In that neighborhood, and the visitors were glad to help the work.

When the road is completed it will be one of the most delightful in the county to travel, if the ax is kept out of the trees that arbor the way.

DR. A. W. WALDEN.

JOHN HEWITT KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—On Sunday morning, Sept. 6, John Hewitt, wife and daughter were at their home on lower Flat Creek. An electrical storm came up and John Hewitt, who was leaning against a post of the barn, remarked to his daughter, standing a few steps away, that they had better get to the house. There came a flash of lightning and the daughter saw her father stagger. She grabbed him and kept him from falling. He died almost instantly from the lightning stroke.

The interment was made at Longview Cemetery, Bethel, at 11:30 o'clock a. m. Tuesday. The pallbearers were John Webb, Dan Palmer, F. M. Vico, J. R. Corbin, John Hewitt was born Nov. 15, 1841. He was a son of William Hewitt and wife who came from Scotland and settled at Bethel.

George Hewitt and Mrs. Richard Stamper, both deceased, were brother and sister of John Hewitt. Mr. Hewitt married Miss Sallie Gudgeon, daughter of Joseph Gudgeon and wife, both deceased. He and their children, Misses Essie and Lizzie and Edward, all at home, survive. Mr. Hewitt was a prominent citizen of his section, being liberal and progressive in his views and in his politics. He stood high in the regard of his neighbors and his untimely death is deeply lamented by all who knew him. His family have the warmest sympathy in their loss.

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE BURLEY TOBACCO SOCIETY.—Your attention is hereby urgently called to the fact that the by-laws of the Burley Tobacco Society provide that on the last Saturday in September of each year all members of the Society shall meet at their respective voting places and shall elect one of their number a delegate to represent his precinct at an election to be held at the county seat on the first Saturday in October of each year for the purpose of electing a director of this Society.

The precinct delegate not only casts the vote of his constituents in the election of a member of the district board from his county, but is also a member of the county board of control in his county. In order that the election shall express the will of the members of the Society, let every member of the Society be present and place at 2 p. m. on the last Saturday in September.

Look at this among you men of honest report, full of wisdom, whom ye may appoint over this business? men of integrity, honest, industrious and public spirit.

Do not neglect this important duty and then complain of results. The future of the Burley Tobacco Society depends upon the character of the men elected on the county board of control and on the district board at the ensuing election.

Remember the day, the hour, the place, and the importance of doing your duty in this election. All samples of 1907 tobacco should be sent to the county seat at Winchester as early as possible. While the days are long and bright the grading can be done much more satisfactorily than when the weather is cold and the skies dark. It is greatly to the interest of the growers as well as to the interest of the Society that samples be sent as soon as they can be properly prepared.

Done by order of the Executive Committee.

FINE LECTURE.—Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart delivered one of her lectures on Wednesday evening during the Institute to a very appreciative audience, her lecture being on "The Work of the Institute for School Improvement."

Miss Partridge, who came under the auspices of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, explained to the Institute so plainly and so fully the needs of organizing for School Improvement.

Work that we expect soon that every teacher will have an active league in his or her district. The County League is ready to assist and has several appointments made.

PICKETT METCALFE, Supt.

IMPROMPTU PIGEON SHOOT.—At daylight Monday morning town folks were startled by a series of reports and were apprehensive that some beligerent persons were gunning for each other. It was, however, only a pigeon shoot and Oscar Palmer making war on the flock of pigeons that have been roosting on the Court-house tower and demanding the pick by perching on the hands. Fifteen of the birds were killed, giving the farmers a sport and a meat for the pot.

MISS MARY REYNOLDS' DEATH.—Miss Mary Reynolds died at the home of her brother, Stephen Reynolds, on Jones' Branch, Sunday morning. She was buried at the Warner graveyard Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by Elder Cleveland Carpenter in the presence of a large number of kindred and friends. She was aged 62 years and had been a faithful member of the Christian Church for 48 years.

KILLED HER HUSBAND.—Mrs. Beulah Smoot, shot and killed her husband, Ed Smoot, in the railroad station at Flemingsburg Monday morning, Sept. 7, making a flesh wound. They had been separated for some time. She and some male while walking together on the street recently were fired on by some one unknown.

MONUMENT TO PETER CURSLEY.—Piggott, Clay Co., Ark., Aug. 30, 1908.—Editor OUTLOOK: I see in the Winchester Democrat an account of "Peter's" death; and that he was buried among strangers and probably in the Potter's field, do not think he should be left without some stone to mark his grave. I think his Kentucky friends should make up enough money to put a stone to his grave. I will give a dollar to start it. See if you cannot get others to do so much.

I am a native of Winchester; never saw "Peter" until last December. He visited me and worked two months. I liked him. He said he must get on to a tobacco county.

I have written to the Mayor of Weston, Mo. Suppose you do the same.

If you will write the Democrat and Sun-Sentinel, Winchester, they will help.

It would be a credit to his Kentucky friends to erect this monument after the cruel reply of his brother.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE M. JACKSON.

THIS OUTLOOK is willing to help in the matter. Let us hear from Peter's old friends.

OVERCROWDED.—As the rfid carriers did not go out Monday some correspondence came so late that we could use only a few items of each. Also an obituary article was held over until next week.

Remember, next Saturday is the last day to make bids on the sewing-machine at Bud Brothers'.

Box SUPPER.—There will be a box supper at Reynoldsville school-house on Friday evening, Sept. 11, 1908. The proceeds are to be used in the "School Improvement Work." Everybody is invited.

JAMES C. & Wm. H. CORD, Executors of H. T. CORD, Flemingsburg, Ky., rfid No. 3.

Auto ACCIDENT.—Walter Trimlett, who acts as chauffeur, started to get into Perry Flora's automobile Sunday morning at Markland's stable while the machine was running and his foot caught in the chain running on the sprocket wheels, mashing his foot and stopping the machine. A thick-soled shoe prevented his foot from being cut in two.

PUBLIC SALE.—On October 1, 1908, we will offer for sale, if not sold before that date, the farm of H. T. CORD, deceased. It is located in Fleming county, three miles east of Helena Station, converted to stores, schools, churches. There are 177 1/2 acres, all under excellent state of cultivation, all in grass except 18 acres now in corn, and 30 acres recently in wheat. There are two good residences with all necessary outbuildings, each, and never-failing water. It can be divided and sold in two parts of equal acreage, or sold as a whole. Persons desiring particulars may apply to James C. Cord, on the farm, or Wm. H. Cord, H. Sterling, deceased. It is to be used in the "School Improvement Work." Everybody is invited.
